Hello Phlock - Message from the Prez

Welcome to 2010 – It's Going to be a Great Year!

I am honored to start out my first President's column of the year with huge thanks to some great people.

- To our outgoing BOD Members: Rick Dudley, Julie Dudley, Tammy Bauman and Sonja Schroder. They worked very hard to make our club the success that it is today.
- To some new folks on our leadership team: Woody Joyner, Steve "Wastnawa" Davis, Vivian McGuffin and Charlie Sykes. These folks are committed to making 2010 a great year for our members and charities.
- To some other folks who have taken on Committee Chair positions: Jan McGuffin as our Charity Chair, Vicki Sykes as our Communications Chair and Betty Young as our Social Co-Chair.
- To the people staying on for another tour of duty on the BOD and Committees: Mark McGuffin, Tracy Kenison, Cathy "Crash" McDonough, Barb Young, Tammy Bauman, Sonja Schroder and Marisa Molinari.

The above mentioned Committees can use some additional members and suggestions. If you're interested in seeking out and investigating charitable options for the club, please contact Jan at Charity@parrotheads.org. If you want to seek out and investigate eating and drinking establishments then Betty at Social@parrotheads.org or Cathy McDonough at Bellyflopper@parrotheads.org are the ones to talk to. If you're into all things web (including Facebook, Twitter and the like), then Vicki's the one to talk to at Communications@parrotheads.org.

Parrot Head Points as a Reward

We're trying something new this year – awarding club members Parrot Head points for certain activities. The idea is to reward those folks who do a lot for the club with an invitation only party that will include free food and entertainment. We'll see how it goes and may tweak it as time goes on.

Parrot Head Points are not going to be used for Buffett tickets

If Jimmy makes an appearance here or in Vegas or any other show we are eligible for, any club member in good standing (that means their dues are paid up) will be able to order a ticket. The only caveat is if there are more requests than tickets available (this has not happened so far) then we'll have to look at a way to prioritize requests. My thought at this point is club longevity but we'll cross that fictional bridge if we get to it.

Get Involved

The Arizona Parrot Head Club is made up of some wonderful people who do a lot of fun and giving activities. I urge you to spend some (more) time with us this year and guarantee you will enjoy yourself and have plenty of opportunities to feel good about your contributions to our causes. We will have oodles of fun and we want you to be there with us!

Peace to you and yours.

Parrot Head Points

Many Parrot Head Clubs award their members points for club activities. The points are used to determine whom is eligible when the club gets an allotment of tickets for a Jimmy Buffett show. We are always under our allotment so haven't implemented a system...yet.

We're going to "borrow" an idea from the San Diego PHC. They used their point system to award the active club members with a big party with food and entertainment paid by the club. (Remember our big bash with Brent Burns? Something just like that and that was a dang good time!) The people who are the most active and contributing to our social and charitable activities rock and we want to show our appreciation for them in a big way. The 2009 and 2010 BOD mulled it over and have developed a point system (see below) that we think is fair and reasonable for even moderately active members to meet the level for the party.

The level to achieve Party status is 20 Parrot Head Points by October 1, 2010. Since this is our first attempt at it, we may adjust that down if it appears to be too burdensome. We'll start advertising how many points each event is in our communications.

Here's the point breakdown:

Activity/Event	Points
Happy Hour/Club Party	1
Club Sponsored House Concert	1
Club Meeting with Happy Hour	2
Chair Event (Salsa, Marathon, PG Committee, etc.)	5
Charity Activity Participation (Salsa, Marathon, Andrea's Closet Donation, Mom O'Malley Poker Tourney, etc)	2
Chair Committee (Membership, Newsletter, Mini-Mart, etc.)	5
Committee Member (see above)	2
Parrot Grande Volunteer	2
Recruit New Club Member	2
Host Club Event	3
Sumbit Newsletter Article or 5 or more pictures	1
Attend Parrot Grande	5

Barb Young (Club Secretary) will keep the list of points. It will never be published as this isn't a contest, just a way to give back to those who give a lot to the club. Everyone who attended the Happy Hour at Chuy's will be awarded 1 point.

Going to the Dogs!

Tammy Bauman

On October 24th, the Parrotheads descended upon Phoenix Greyhound Racing Park. The 4th race was very entertaining as the #4 dog did not want to stop running! It probably took them about 15 minutes to catch him after the race. He just wanted to be free! We got our photo taken with one of the race winners. And we raised $200 for the Adopt a Greyhound Organization. Way to go!

Hugo Duarte House Concert

Mark Crimedog McGuffin

The Arizona Parrothead Club and its members got a very special treat this holiday season when we were fortunate enough to have Nashville and North Carolina singer/songwriter Hugo Duarte come through for a house concert on his west coast swing.

Many thanks go out to Steve and Roxanne Chitwood, who graciously hosted the show in their beautiful backyard. It may have been a little chilly that afternoon, but things warmed up quickly when Sam Rainwater and Ray Cody stepped up to the mike for the opening act, performing some old favorites and now new favorites from Sam's new CD, Vacation Location.

Hugo reminded all his Arizona fans of just why we all became Hugo fans to begin with, performing everyone's favorites from his CD releases Places Along the Road, Another Day In Paradise, and of course, Don't Be Fooled By the Hat. And as you might expect, that trademark hat was in its proper place throughout the show.

As always with house concerts, it was great friends, great food, and even greater music. Hugo accompanied each song with a bit of the story as to just where each came from. Of course, he had to put on a jacket that day, and a last minute Tequila infusion was needed to break the nip in the air, but the man and his music were as incredible as always. And those who stuck around after the show got a special treat that evening, enjoying an around-the-fire Q&A with Hugo himself that was nearly as enjoyable as the show itself. It is days and evenings like this one that remind us all that it was the music that brought us all together to begin with.

AZPHC Holiday Party
Tammy Bauman

December 5th the annual Holiday Party was held at the Bauman Party Palace. As usual we had lots of great food-ribs, pulled pork and other main dishes, sides and you can't forget the desserts!

The joke contest was entertaining as ever and we had some newbies step up and join in. This years winner was Rick Young.

We collected toys for Andrea's Closet and holy cow did we have toys! Parrotheads are so awesome.

There is a funny story to go along with this. I couldn't find my Christmas Flamingo (stuffed animal that sings a Christmas song) after the party. While we were unpacking the toys at the hospital, what do I find in one of the bags of toys - my Flamingo!!

We also had a suprise visitor-no not Santa! Hugo Duarte stopped by along with Anne Marie Wotkyns. The Stage Whores loved the impromptu jam session with Hugo in the living room. Everyone enjoyed listening to the awesome music. What a great time and the kids got lots of great things from it.

Christmas Shopping for Those Less Fortunate than Ourselves

Tracy Kension

This year the Arizona Parrothead Club decided it would be a worthwhile endeavor to spend some of the club treasury on Christmas gifts for those who might not otherwise get something. We chose a donation of $500 and the venue was set at the Paradise Valley Mall where the Salvation Army sets up Christmas Trees with angels hanging on them. Each angel represents a child whose parents or guardians are just not able to provide a Christmas present. We figured this year, the need was probably greater than it had been in the past and it was time for us to step up!

On, Saturday, December 12th a group of us met at noon (12/12 at 12:00) and picked 12 angels off of one of the trees in the center of the mall. The tree that we selected from was the one that presents were being delivered for the next day so it fit into our plan of shopping until we dropped that afternoon. We split up into teams and distributed the funds which also included personal donations from club members, including 2 parakeets, each of whom pulled $20 out of their piggy banks to add to the cause....ahh...it's heartwarming to see the spirit of giving alive in an 11 year old.

Armed with our angels, money and a list of stores offering extra deals for Christmas Tree Angel purchases, we split up and were off...only to meet up at JC Penney's, one of the stores offering said deal! Each child only had a couple of toy requests on their list so we supplemented that list with basic necessities such as shirts, jeans, socks and new Christmas pajamas, because, as The Princess said, every kid should have new pajamas at Christmas!

Between the stores in the mall and Target on the outskirts we were able to purchase the items on the wish lists and more! After shopping for a couple of hours, we had spent a total of $668 and provided Christmas for 12 children. We turned in our purchases, along with the angels, to the volunteers from the Salvation Army, who helped us pack up each set of gifts for each child.

Once we were done, we met at Julio G's for post-shopping refreshments. While our feet were tired from walking all over the mall, our hearts were full from knowing we had helped and also from being given the opportunity to realize just how fortunate we all are! The overall consensus from the group is that this is something we should do again. We even discussed plans to make it bigger and better.
